

Please Drink Bird Friendly Coffee

Different Certifications:

- Bird Friendly – this is the only true shade grown certification
- Organic – no prohibited substances even if grown in another country
- Rainforest Alliance – sustainable agriculture
- Fair Trade – really about poverty

According to Bird Watching Daily

1. Consider country of origin – Costa Rica, Brazil and Columbia more sun grown coffees
2. Smaller companies better than multinationals
3. Price – cheap is not sustainable for the farmer and the environment

Resources:

- www.nationalzoo.si.edu/migratory-birds/bird-friendly-coffee
- www.thesolutionsjournal.com/article/has-your-coffee-killed-a-songbird
- Wild Birds Unlimited on HHI has bird friendly coffee. We encourage you to buy it and support them when you go to get your seed.
- Amazon has many varieties of Bird Friendly® coffee available online including Keurig type recyclable pods with coffee and decaf; Paula and Freddi have both purchased these, not unreasonable prices 72 coffee $31; 72 decaf $35
- Whole Foods' coffee division, Allegro Coffee, is now offering two Bird Friendly® shade-grown coffees: one in the bulk bins, and one on the shelf
- Also check out on-line - www.birdsandbeans.com